What's New This Week?

Welcome back!

I hope everyone had a wonderful fall break, and was able to rest and relax with family and friends ☺

This is our last week of our first quarter of the year. We will be using this week to review and assess standards that we have covered so far this year. I will also be pulling students over for reassessments for standards that were listed as a 1 on their progress reports. Please see below for a list of standards from the first quarter and let me know if you have any questions.

Math: graphing data, read/write/count numbers 0-120, place value (tens and ones of two digit numbers), measurement of length, addition facts to 10

Content: Continents and oceans, landforms, global address, types of weather, seasons, weather instruments, and water.

Writing: narrative writing that recounts two or more events with details, temporal words, and a closing. Students will also show understanding of capitalization, punctuation, and spelling in their writing.

Reading: describes characters, setting, and events in fiction stories; explains the difference between fiction and non-fiction texts.

NEWS and Announcements

SNACK: We do have a working snack time in class daily. If you choose, please send in a healthy snack for your child. NO JUICE or CANDY, please ☺

HOMEWORK: Please make sure to sign your child's homework menu before returning it to school on Friday in your child's take home folder.

CLASSROOM ENVIRONMENT: Our classroom tends to be on the colder side. I keep it on the warmest setting allowed and it is still pretty chilly. You might want to consider sending a sweater or light jacket for your child to wear in the classroom.

Support the Pride: Don't forget to donate to our KSE school foundation! Here is the link for more information ☺
